Origins

The Origins Concept comes from our formative days striving to be different. Innovative painting and lacquering techniques allowed the company to grow and develop; these remain core to Callerton's offering.

Smooth painted Shaker doors combine with Frame Effect features giving a traditional feel with a modern twist. Tailor this with your designer to develop a specification that includes the cabinetry and signature pieces that make the design your own.

When the owners of this Victorian house first considered extending their home, they never imagined that they would end up completely transforming their living space by knocking four rooms into one. But that's exactly what happened, creating a modern and open-plan area that perfectly suits their lifestyle.

The new space begins with a traditional kitchen that has been given a modern twist with handleless profiles and contemporary lighting. The kitchen leads through to a dining area with a vaulted ceiling, which was created by removing the room above. This architectural feature adds a sense of grandeur and spaciousness to the room while allowing natural light to flood in.

In addition to the kitchen and dining area, the homeowners also created a separate living space and a bar, which is perfect when large gatherings spill into other rooms. The couple have grown-up children who often visit and spend time at the property, and they wanted to create a space that would be comfortable and functional for everyone.

The designer who worked on the project has done a superb job of combining traditional and modern elements to create a truly unique and beautiful space. The Victorian character of the house has been preserved, but the new living area is fresh, contemporary, and full of light.

'The new living area is fresh, contemporary, & full of light'

The homeowners are thrilled with their new lifestyle space and the way it has been transformed. They never imagined that knocking four rooms into one would have such a profound effect on their home and their lives. The new space is functional, stylish and perfect for entertaining, and it has given them a renewed appreciation of their home.

Overall, this renovation project is an excellent example of how a traditional property can be transformed into a modern and functional living space, without losing its character or charm. It's a testament to the creativity and skill of the designer and the homeowners' vision for their space.

When the Root family purchased their Victorian townhouse, they knew they wanted to make it their own. With older children and a love for entertaining, they dreamed of a spacious, open-plan living area that would bring the family together and allow them to entertain guests in style. However, the family were unsure how this could be achieved.

Enter their designer, who suggested a bold solution: remove the back of the house and add a new extension to create the open-plan space they desired. The Roots were hesitant at first, but with the designer's guidance and expertise, they decided to take the plunge.

The result is nothing short of stunning. The new space features a traditional kitchen with a dining area and bar, perfect for hosting dinner parties and family gatherings. The space also flows seamlessly into a large garden, bringing the outside in and creating an inviting and generous atmosphere.

The Roots are thrilled with their new lifestyle space, and they find themselves spending more time together as a family than ever before. The renovation has not only transformed their home, but also the way they live. The family enjoys hosting dinner parties and gatherings, and the garden is now a favourite spot for summer BBQs.

'Make memories that will last a lifetime'

The Root's renovation serves as a reminder that sometimes, a fresh perspective and a willingness to think outside the box can lead to unexpected and beautiful results. With the help of their designer, the Roots were able to turn their dream home into a reality. The family can now enjoy their home in a new way, and make memories that will last a lifetime.

Legacy

The Legacy Concept brings together our most traditional elements. This epitomises the country cottage or stately home genre.

Grain painted or smooth painted Shaker doors combine with the detailed Classic or simple Frame Effect features. Add skirting, a traditional cornice, a Belfast sink, tongue and grooved panels, and classical handles to achieve this ambience.

The kitchen is often considered the heart of the home. It is the place where meals are prepared, families gather, and memories are made. A well-designed kitchen not only makes cooking and entertaining more enjoyable but in buying well and buying once it can also increase the value of your home.

The incorporation of high-end appliances adds to the practicality and functionality of your kitchen. In this design the ovens are raised to eye level, which helps to reduce bending and lifting, making it more comfortable to cook and bake.

'A great space for cooking, entertaining, & spending time with family & friends'

This striking kitchen features two smooth paint finishes with oak highlights, contrasting worktops and touches of brass. Open cabinets with lighting bring depth and drama to the island. While the bi-fold dresser opens to reveal a toaster and an integrated microwave. This is a clever design solution that helps to keep the work surface clean and clutter-free, while also making these appliances accessible and convenient to use.

Finally, the use of glazed top boxes and a stunning Edmonton chimney breast that make use of the high ceilings add grandeur to the kitchen and gives it an airy and spacious feel. Overall, this kitchen is a perfect example of how a thoughtful and well-designed kitchen can be both beautiful and practical, making it a great space for cooking, entertaining, and spending time with family and friends.

Boutique

The Boutique Concept specialises in contradictions to bring its own unique style. This mix of vibrant and subtle finishes combines curves with linear sections to create a fun and timeless space.

Shaker and slab doors combine with Grande Deco features and other curved elements. Open shelves and illuminated glazed cabinetry adds light and depth to the kitchen. Handleless sections hint at the modern while incorporating a chimney breast gives the design a comforting traditional feel.

Elemental

The Elemental Concept centres around tactile materials, textures, and finishes. Our kitchens must be practical and visually appealing but must also feel beautiful. Engaging metal, wood, and textured decors, with natural and recycled materials, offers a host of experiences for the senses.

Abstract Expressions, Orphic, Slab, and Shaker doors combine with Cubic and Geo-metric features to offer a timeless often minimalist feel. Choose mixed materials, industrial textures, and natural elements that reflect your desired environment and make your kitchen a sanctuary.

When the Vine family decided to make a big change to their home, they knew they wanted a space that was both sociable and practical. They decided to add a generous single-story extension to the back of their property, enabling them to create a large open-plan lifestyle space, as well as a new utility room attached to the garage.

The new extension features bi-fold doors that overlook an extensive garden, which the Vine family loves to enjoy. They wanted the space to be tactile, so they opted for dark textured tones. The kitchen needed to be beautiful, but also functional hence the bi-fold dresser that allows clutter to be hidden away behind bi-fold doors.

The final result is a stunning open-plan space that the family can enjoy together. The kitchen is a particular highlight, with its dark countertops, sleek cabinetry and high-end appliances. The bi-fold doors that lead out to the garden bring in plenty of natural light, making the space feel bright and airy.

The Vine family are thrilled with the outcome of their renovation, and they now have a space that perfectly meets their needs. The open-plan design allows them to cook, dine and entertain in one large space, while the bi-fold doors make it easy to enjoy the garden even when the weather is less than perfect. The new utility room is also a great addition, providing a practical space for laundry that also helps to keep the rest of the house clutter-free.

'The dark tones & tactile kitchen make the space feel elegant'

Overall, the Vine family's home extension project was a great success, they now have a space to enjoy for years to come. The open-plan design and bi-fold patio doors have transformed the way they live, making their home more sociable and practical than ever before. The dark tones and tactile kitchen make the space feel elegant, and the ability to hide clutter makes it easy to keep the space looking clean and tidy.

Building a new home is an exciting yet challenging task, especially for a young family. For many, it is a chance to create a space that truly reflects their lifestyle and personalities. For one such family, the focus was on creating an open-plan kitchen, living, and dining space that would be both functional and stylish.

'A beautiful & functional space that perfectly reflects how they live'

The new kitchen is a contemporary masterpiece, featuring sleek and sophisticated finishes. The use of dark colours creates a sense of drama and elegance, while also making the space feel cosy and inviting. The mood of the kitchen alters throughout the day with the use of different lighting, making it a versatile space that can be enjoyed at any time.

One of the most striking features of the new kitchen is the large bi-fold doors that open up to the garden. This provides a seamless transition between the indoor and outdoor spaces, making it perfect for entertaining or simply enjoying the fresh air. The garden is an extension of the kitchen, providing a lovely backdrop for meals and gatherings.

The open-plan layout of the kitchen, living and dining area is perfect for a young family. The space is designed to be flexible, allowing the family to use it in different ways depending on the occasion. It is perfect for hosting dinner parties, casual meals, and even homework sessions. The large island in the kitchen is the perfect spot for food preparation and a chat, while the dining table is ideal for sit-down meals.

Overall, the new home for this young family is a beautiful and functional space that perfectly reflects how they live. A place to make memories for many years to come.

After retiring from the bank, Sheila now works part-time as a barista at her local farm shop and loves nothing better than cooking, but recognised her kitchen was cold, draughty, and simply not a room anyone enjoyed spending time in. Space was limited, with numerous nibs, pillars, and an encroaching stairwell. Sheila knew she needed expert input to transform the space.

During the initial meeting with her designer, dimensions had been established and Sheila completed her Design Criteria document which helped collate her aims and ambitions for her new kitchen. "I don't know how the project could have progressed without my designer's wonderful help and advice," explained Sheila.

Now the project is complete "I can honestly say it has changed the way I live". The vision of my designer certainly worked wonders and turned the original kitchen on its head.

Sheila's project epitomises why engaging a design-led kitchen specialist should be the first step of your journey. The budget was far from infinite and this was taken on board from the start. Good design does not have to cost a fortune but does require consideration and planning to ensure the choices made keep within the financial boundaries.

As demonstrated, great kitchen design relates to more than furniture. It involves utilising the space and creating a layout in the most effective manner. The challenging space has been transformed with nibs, pillars, and the encroaching stairwell disguised or completely hidden from view by careful positioning of different heights and depths of furniture.

"I can honestly say it has changed the way I live"

The creation of a separate utility resolved the issue of washing machine, storage and central heating boiler being on display, as well as insulating the kitchen from cold and draughts. Re-siting, as well as replacing the doors and windows with double glazed units, made the room feel cosy and inviting. Removing the wall to the dining area opened up the kitchen making a light and airy space.

The final piece of the puzzle was of course the incorporation of a built-in coffee machine – a present from Sheila's Mum. What barista wouldn't want their very own coffee machine! A masterclass in design.

Design-led dressing rooms are the latest trend in home decor, providing a sophisticated and stylish space to store and showcase your fashion collection.

This dressing room includes large open wardrobes finished in Natural Carini Walnut with painted framing pieces that surround and define the furniture. Top boxes add grandeur and provide substantial additional storage space. The combination of open and closed storage options allows for both practicality and flexibility, making it easy to store items and display your favourite pieces.

'A sophisticated & stylish space to store & showcase your fashion collection'

The featured dressing room is completed with a central island that forms a focal point for the room. This not only provides a beautiful and practical solution for displaying your fashion items but also provides a space to sit and dress, creating a comfortable and luxurious atmosphere. The island is finished to a high standard with a superb stone surface and sumptuous pendant lighting above.

The Robes design concept can be applied to bedrooms and dressing rooms, offering a seamless and sophisticated look throughout the space. The use of materials such as Natural Carini Walnut adds warmth and texture to the room, while the strip lighting provides a modern and contemporary feel.

'Treat yourself to a space that you'll love to spend time in'

Design-led dressing rooms are the perfect addition to your home, offering a space to store, display, and enjoy your collection in sophisticated and stylish surroundings tailored to you. Whether you opt for a large open wardrobe or a more compact solution, the design-led dressing room is a great way to add a touch of luxury to your home. So why not treat yourself to a space that you'll love to spend time in?
